one: Unless we get some day, a son-of-a-gun. REMEDY FOR DIPTHERIA.-The following supply country merchants, Hotel keepers, and is said to be an infallible remedy for this fearful disease. It was first tried some days ago, in a district where several deaths had occurred, and in every instance in which it was used the patient recovered:

"Make two small bags that will reach from ear to ear, and fill them with ashes and salt; dip them into hot water, and wring them out so that they will not drip, and apply them to the throat; cover up the throat with a flannel cloth and change them as often as they become cool, until the throat becomes irritated, near blistering. For children it is necroads, and in the vicinity of Cloud's Mill and the cessary to put flaunel cloth between the ashes and the throat to prevent blistering .-When the ashes have been on a sufficient time, take a wet flannel cloth, and rub it with castile soap until it is covered with thicklather. Dip it in hot water and apply it to the throat and change as they cool at the same time use a gargle made of one teaspoonful of cayenne papper, one of salt, one of molassas in a tea-cup full of hot water, and when cool, add one-fourth as much cider vinegar, and gargle every fifteen minutes until the patient requires sleep. A gargle made
